

Something to cheer up

It is been a while, since I shared some library jokes with you. Here is a new collection. Enjoy!

Did you hear about the schoolgirl who was so excited about a book she found in the library called How to Hug?
It turned out to be volume eight of an encyclopedia.

Why did the sparrow fly into the library?
It was looking for bookworms.

A frog walked into a library and asked the librarian what he would recommend.
"How about this sir?" asked the librarian, showing him Toad of Toad Hall.
"Reddit, reddit," said the frog.

An eight year girl is trying to check out a book entitled
"Advice for Young Mothers" from the local library. Librarian: Now why do you want to check out this particular book, dear? Little girl: I collect moths.

Q. What did the detective do when he didn't believe the librarian's story?
A. He booked her!

Q. When a goose goes to the library, what books does she look for?
A. Peoplebumps books!

Q. If a student goes to a seven-story library and checks out seven books, how many are left?
A. None. The library had only seven stories!

Q. Where does a librarian sleep?
A. Between the covers.

Jim said, "My dog tried to eat my library book."
"What did you do?" asked the librarian.
"I took the words right out of his mouth."